WATER SKIS.

Hurlingham for polo and Switzerland for winter sports --- but he is a confusion of ideas ~~which~~ that led an enthusiast to try water ski-ing on the Thames in that aristocratic neighbourhood. It's grand fun as long as you don't fall foul of passing bargees --- but if the police want to arrest you for sppeeding they've got just the right equipment. Have you ever seen a dream floating? ~~[illegible]~~ A policeman's lot is not all jam, but his feet are dripping. Turning away reluctantly from the subject of policemen's feet --- here is the regatta at Auburndale. Here they have a combination of swimming and diving and broncho-busting --- but it isn't the broncho that ~~[illegible]~~ gets busted.
