The "Emsley Carr" Mile

A NEW perpetual challenge trophy has been presented by the "News of the World" for annual competition, at the British Games or a similar national meeting. It is intended that the annual race shall be open to athletes from all parts of the world, in the hope that year by year we may have a mile race between outstanding runners of international repute.

The trophy has been named after the late Sir Emsley Carr, Editor of the "News of the World" for more than 50 years and a great patron of athletics. He was responsible for the "News of the World" sponsorship of Athletic Carnivals for the Services and others during the 1914-1918 world war.

It was he, also, who inspired the British Games Meetings, the first of which was held at Stamford Bridge just 30 years ago. He took a lively interest in all these meetings and was a staunch supporter through them of the Amateur Athletic Association, the Women's Amateur Athletic Association, the Counties Athletic Union, the British Olympic Association, the Universities Athletic Union and other athletic bodies. He also pledged the support of the "News of the World" to the series of Road Relay Races, started in 1924, and now constituting the classic events in this sphere of sport. (London to Brighton for Southern Clubs, Manchester to Blackpool for Northern and Edinburgh to Glasgow for Scottish Clubs—all culminating in the National Race on the London-Brighton Road.)

He was further responsible for giving Arthur Newton the chance to make his 50-mile and 100-mile road record runs. In 1937 he followed this up by sponsoring the visit of Hardy Ballington of Durban, who broke Newton's records and is still the world's best 100-miler. (Bath to London 13 hours 21 min. 19 sec.)

Under his chairmanship the British Games raised many thousands of pounds for athletic and other funds.

It is fitting that the Emsley Carr Trophy should also call to mind the President of today's meeting, Mr. William Emsley Carr, son of Sir Emsley and the present Chairman of the "News of the World," for he has done much for athletics since he assumed responsibility for these meetings. He has expanded their international appeal and helped to put athletics on the map in this country. Since the war the Meetings have raised nearly £10,000 for the A.A.A. Coaching and Equipment Funds, and nearly £4,000 for the National Playing Fields Association.

The proceeds of today's meeting have been promised to the British Empire Games (England) Appeal Fund.

The Trophy takes the form of a handsomely bound book telling the story of world miling. As far back as 1868, we have the first record of a mile in less than 4½ minutes, when William C. Gibbs won in 4 min. 28.6 sec.

The progressive table of world miles is given in the book and another table, showing the progress of British records. Autographs of most of the record breakers are included. The story will be continued year by year, by giving not only the result of the Emsley Carr Mile, but also a list of all the outstanding miles of the year in all parts of the world.

The field in the inaugural race today is a distinguished one—indeed it has only been surpassed by an Olympic final.

Wes Santee (Kansas, U.S.A.) holds the American record with 4 min. 2.4 sec., the fourth fastest mile ever (apart from Bannister's unrecognised 4 min. 2 sec.). Mal

Whitfield, half-mile world record-holder (1 min. 48.6 sec.), having just beaten Sydney Wooderson's record, is keen to show what he can do at the longer distance. Eyar Ericsson (Sweden) has done 4 min. 3.6 sec., and Franz Herman (Belgium) has clocked 4 min. 5.9 sec.

Against these we have Chris Chataway who did a fast three-quarters with Roger Bannister at Oxford. His best recorded time is 4 min. 8.4 sec., but he should be able to beat that. Bill Nankeville (4 min. 8.6 sec.), Don Macmillan (4 min. 8.8 sec.) and Gordon Pirie (unbeatable at 3 to 6 miles, but an unknown quantity at one mile) might spring a surprise.

On paper the foreign competition appears to be stronger than the home opposition, but when the standard is high, anything may happen.

We hope to see a fast race and a close finish, with all contestants improving on their previous best.

- SCHOEFFEL (440 yds.) ..... For the past two seasons Germany has been producing a galaxy of talent in quarter-miling Haas, Geister, Heppartz and company. Now comes another star in Schoeffel who displays both power and speed.
- TROSSBACH (120 Hurdles) ..... High hurdles champion of Germany and an Olympic representative, he will be a danger to Britain's Peter Hildreth and Jack Parker.
- FUTTERER (Sprints) ..... The fastest European sprinter of the year. At his best is capable not only of beating British and American stars but of smashing E. McDonald Bailey's 100 yd. record of 9.6 sec.

EMSLEY CARR MILE TROPHY

BEING A PERPETUAL CHALLENGE TROPHY
TO BE COMPETED FOR EACH YEAR AT THE BRITISH GAMES OR SOME SIMILAR NATIONAL MEETING.

In the Coronation year of 1953, an outstanding ambition of World Track Athletes is to achieve the Four Minute Mile. In order to encourage Runners from Home and Overseas in this quest and to record their Achievements, the "News of the World" has instituted this Annual Contest.

The Emsley Carr Mile takes its name from the late Sir Emsley Carr, Editor of the "News of the World" for more than 50 years and, for some time Chairman of the Company. For more than 25 years he was a Patron of Athletics and a good friend to the Amateur Athletic Association. He inspired the British Games and was responsible for their establishment in 1923 as an annual event.

The Race is also associated with William Emsley Carr, the Chairman of the "News of the World" in 1953, when this Trophy was inaugurated.

his book records the story of Mile Running throughout the World from 1868, when for the first time a Runner was known to have covered a Mile in less than 4½ minutes.

It will continue the story.
