Accompanied by Mrs. Churchill the Prime Minister went north to inspect defences in Eastern Scotland, Home Guard included. Needless to say the Premier had the right hat for the occasion.

Later he met General Sikorsky and reviewed detachments of the Polish Army. These troops are highly trained and ready for the time when they'll go abroad for the victory offensive.

The Prime Minister, like all inspiring leaders, has the courage to bide his time, even though the Axis Powers sweep on Greece in yet another spectacular move. In the face of adversity he is unperturbed. This nation and all countries that oppose the Axis trust Winston Churchill not to wait too long.
