

ADMIRAL HALSEY'S SWEEP IN THE CHINA SEA.

To take the Japs by surprise, the fleet moves under the cover of storm clouds. From that concealment in the South China sea, it hurls assaults against Japanese war centres on the China coast. A sea and air attack - and from the decks of American aircraft carriers, the swarms of planes go speeding. They blast enemy shipping, and in a series of daily air blows rake the Jap all the way from French Indo-China to Formosa. Jap vessels bombed and blown up. Air action to support the Philippine invasion, shore positions bombed, airfields, harbours, river traffic. That plane, crash landing, hits the deck near the camera. The shock of the impact knocks the pilot unconscious. He's out in the cockpit of his plane. But these Navy motion pictures show how he comes to okay. China and Formosa enemy key point blasted in strategy.
