

BRITAIN HONOURS D-DAY HEROES.

To unveil a tablet commemorating the American D-Day assault force, Ambassador Winant visited Portland, from whose harbour nearly half a million U.S. troops sailed to France.

Mr. Winant warned his ^{hearers} ~~heroes~~ of possible consequences of the atom bomb, a warning that went home to all who listened.

The tablet records ~~for future generations~~ that from this place ^{began} ~~embarked a liberating army~~ for the greatest invasion in ~~the~~ history. If mankind is capable of learning from experience the tablet will also record that the operation hastened the end of war itself.