

299

FUNERAL OF ADMIRAL KELLY.

Leaving behind him a distinguished ~~and honourable~~ record of 52 years in the service, Admiral of the Fleet Sir John Kelly passed through London on his last journey --- ~~saluted by the Navy, and~~ ~~by all.~~ His Majesty the King was represented, and Sir John's brother --- himself an Admiral --- was chief mourner.

After a funeral service at St Martin's in the Fields, the coffin was taken to Portsmouth, With the stately Victory in the background as the cortege moved through the ~~xxx~~ dockyard with Naval Escort, Admiral of the Fleet Sir John Kelly was piped aboard for the last time.

~~FAIL OF MADRID.~~