

DUKE OF NORFOLK.

329

Lovely Arundel Castle was gaily bedecked for the homecoming of the Duke of Norfolk and his bride --- for the return from their honeymoon was a day long to be remembered in the town. Flags and streamers were gay in the streets as the carriage left the station drawn by the Fire Brigade. At the Market Square the bridal pair received an address while the Duchess was presented with a bouquet by Irene Pretlove, daughter of a local porter. Then --- the triumphal procession through the streets --- through an amazing crowd of wildly cheering townsfolk --- over the little River Arun to the historic, ancestral castle of the Dukes of Norfolk.

TORNADO.

A tropical storm hit Botany New South Wales and left in its wake a trail of death injury and wreckage. At eighty miles an hour the hurricanex swept homes from its path --- houses, public buildings --- whole streets were laid ~~in~~ waste. ~~Though rescue parties did their best, nothing could undo the damage caused by the monster element.~~ Over a hundred cows met sudden death stampeding into a fence alive with electricity. ~~Electricians almost ran to the ground --- that was a tornado in Australia.~~

TRAIN WRECK.

And another pile of debris in Canterbury --- this when the ~~electric~~ electric train system went wrong. Nobody was in this train --- but listen! One carriage of wooden construction was torn to pieces --- steel carriages in the same train were hardly dented. Next time that wooden carriage might be full of passengers.
