

LEMON FETE.

Nearer home in Provence, the Lemon Fete shows how western ideas produce their pomp and splendour. Through the town --- a parade of costumed children. Through the town, a parade of costumed children. But this is Salamanca, where chubby faced babies are marching to a military air, the implements of war upon their infant shoulders. For this is 1937. The occasion is the changing of the guard --- Moroccan troops are being relieved by Spanish ~~Spain has become the part of the world~~
