ROCKEFELLER.

2 John D? Rockefeller was a name that has been synonymous with great wealth for countless years. Now the great veteran who was at one time reputed to possess a fortune of two hundred millions has passed ~~away~~ on, and he is said to have died a comparatively poor man owing to his many benefactions, and to his having transferred much of his wealth to his successors. Our pictures show Rockefeller at his favourite pastime. It was his ambition to live to be a hundred years old, but he died at ninety-seven.

BASQUE CHILDREN.

1 The focus of attention in Spain has long been concentrated upon fighting men --- field warfare and bombing raids.--- but from all this there is a constant stream of refugees. / Doctors and Nurses of the British Red Cross have been doing great work in evacuating over 4,000 kiddies --- examining them and numbering them for their journey to England. / And now they have arrived at Southampton on the steamship Habana. Imagination runs riot as these little ones come ashore. They have said good-bye to homes and mothers and fathers. Everything is being done for their care and comfort, but nothing can replace what they have lost. This is the price of war, paid by those who should know nothing of its horrors. The heart bleeds for these children --- it is a grim reflection on our civilization.
