

MOVING A SKYSCRAPER.

377

America --- they built a skyscraper and ~~they~~ decided they didn't like it where it was, so they moved it. It's a pity they didn't make up their minds in the first place, but it's really ~~nothing new~~ ^{an} not ^{idea} original. Some of the houses in England, move if you slam the door.

ARUNDEL HORSE SHOW?

Sussex --- In the lovely grounds of Arundel Park, a mounted gymkhana, by permission of the Duke of Norfolk. It was a most interesting show, and the first time I ever saw a horse ~~run~~ with a spare wheel. This is Miss Anne Davis --- with apologies to Sir Walter Gilbey. The prizes were presented by the Duchess of Norfolk.

AUSTRALIAN DAM.

South Australia --- In the Valley of Mount Bold, near Adelaide, digger engineers have been working for five years on a huge ~~reservoir~~ ^{dam}. 150 feet high --- 730 feet across --- the new man-made lake-to-be is nearing completion, a rival to Boulder Dam.

KIDS' BOXING.

New York --- the City police put on a boxing carnival in the sidewalks of Greenwich Village. It was here that Gene Turney began his rise to fame --- and here are two future Brown Bombers. If he lands one of those ~~upstarts~~, we shall all be surprised.
