

DOGS.

411

The problem of how to exercise a large dog in a small flat, has been successfully overcome by this brilliant brainwave which hails from Chicago. The tired business man need no longer take his dog out after a ~~long~~<sup>long</sup> day in the office. But of course, ~~EEEE~~ exercise isn't the only reason why you take a dog out at night. He must have fresh air. / And here's another glimpse of the toy department. At Ashfield, New South Wales a model speedboat made an attack on the world's record / Flashing round the pond at fifty miles an hour it not only broke the water speed record but had a go at the high jump.

Subject

Subject