

CRYSTAL PALACE.

445-

The Coronation Trophy at the Crystal Palace marks the opening of the season of road racing in Britain. A good entry --- and the little cars gave a hair-raising display of speed on the twisting circuit. Picturesque are the surroundings for this newest road-racing track, but eyes forget the scenery as they fix on flashing cars. Sixteen laps --- and the race resolves itself into a three-cornered duel between the Siamese Prince Bira and Wakefield and Dobson. They finished in that order --- Prince Bira was the winner, and he received the Coronation Trophy from Earl Howe.
