

SKI-MEET

They're coming down the mountain ~~^~~ St Paul Minnesota has a ski-jump a hundred and twenty five feet in the air ~~^~~ and the champion Reidar Anderson cleared ~~and~~ a hundred and ninety seven feet. They're jumping stars, and the spectators are seeing stars. Now watch this baby take off like an eagle and come straight for us ~~^~~ right to the eye of the camera on the left of the picture --- knock his eye out.

Now skating --- 15th annual race for the Silver skates in Madison Square --- 14,000 spectators thrill to the lisp and scurry of ice below the flashing metal. ~~In this winter season~~
The favourite of the big race came in fourth; but the first three were disqualified so it's nice work if you can work it. Round and round --- ~~and~~ Alex Hurd does a barrel-jump to keep the home fires burning.

Now roller skating --- when the languid lovelies of Miami go to ~~the~~ swimming pool they put skates on the waiters, so that when the English cup of tea arrives it's already stirred. ~~And then~~
And ~~there's also~~ ^{here's} a girl who likes her tea stirred after she drinks it. Nearby they have all the attractions of nature with a heavyweight taking his little daughter Genevieve up for a dive in the wonderful scenery. Oh, it's a lovely spot; you must drop in sometime. Yes, they're very up-to-date, and the service they say is simply superb. It's wonderful how the waiters keep their dignity.
