SKI-MEET

They're coming down the mountain — St Paul Minnesota has a ski-jump a hundred and twenty five feet in the airpand the champion Reidar Anderson cleared must a hundred and ninety seven feet. They're jumping stars, and the spectators are seeing stars. Now watch this baby take off like an eagle and come straight for us a right to the eye of the camera on the left of the picture —— knock his eye out.

Now skating --- 15th annual race for the liver skates in Madison Square --- 14,000 spectators thrill to the lisp and scurry of ice below the flashing metal.

The favourite of the big race came in fourth; but the first three were disqualified so it's nice work if you can work it. Round and round --- Alex Hurd does a barrel-jump to keep the home fires burning.

Now roller skating --- when the languid lovelides of Miami go to the swimming pool they put skates on the waiters, so that when the English cup of tea arrives it's already stirred. And the languish cup of tea arrives it's already stirred. And the agirl who likes her tea stirred after she drinks it. Nearby they have all the attractions of nature with a heavyweight taking his little daughter Genevieve up for a dive in the wonderful scenery. Oh, it's a lovely spot; you must drop insometime. Yes, they're very up-to-date, and the service they say is simply superble. It's wonderful how the waiters keep their dignity.
