

✓ 579
POLO.

was
Royal blood present in both teams at Ranelagh for the Duke of York's Challenge Cup. The Duke of Gloucester was playing for the Air Force, while the Navy side included Lord Louis Mountbatten, and the Marquess of Milford Haven, descendants of Queen Victoria.

in 1928
The Cup was presented by the present King/when he was Duke of York. Since then, the Navy have won seven times and the Air Force three times.

It was a hard fought game, and Navy proved triumphant once more, by four goals to three. But as the scores indicate, the result was in doubt right up to the last minutes of play. If anything, the Air Force were more persistent in attack, but the Navy's shooting was more accurate.

The Cup was presented by the Duchess of Gloucester, and Her Royal Highness performed the little function in her usual vivacious and charming manner, handing the trophy to Lord Louis Mountbatten.