RABBITS.

At a rabbit factory in Scotland, they're marking and cutting out fur gloves. When this process is completed, they have to be sewn, and then the gloves are ready to be worn.

Rabbits are really very useful, for they provide fur coats, ~~scarves~~, and rugs ~~for the home~~ for the home.

Before rabbits have to settle down to the serious side of life, they have quite a good time, especially when they're ~~quite~~ babies. They sit about and look sweet, nibbling furiously at ~~at any odd bit of green food.~~ odd bits of lettuce. ~~They love to hop off just~~ when one wants to catch them.

~~The owner of this model farm breeds all his own animals, and makes all types of fur garments from their pelts.~~

Rabbits in the wild state can do a lot of harm. Unless they are properly controlled, they soon become a pest. When they are tame, they are delightful creatures & soon become pets of the first order.

At this model farm, they breed all their own animals & make ~~fur garments~~ fur garments from their pelts.
