

BIGGAR POULTRY SALE.

Our cameraman, while visiting Scotland recently, paid a visit to Biggar where he found a poultry show in full swing.

The stalls were full of valuable birds, in the market which contained a ~~great~~ variety of stock. These were the lucky ones which survived the Xmas rush.

2 With so many good things for sale-- it must be a difficult job to choose the best bird. But whether it be turkey, goose or chicken, it's nice to feel that the home larder will be full-ensuring a comfortable beginning to another year.

The auctioneer is an old hand, and soon brisk business is the order of the day.
