

Garden Party

Buckingham Palace: When the Queen ~~and the Royal Family~~ ^{GAVE HER} first garden party of the summer, ~~she was~~ ^{SHE WAS} accompanied by other members of the Royal Family - as they moved informally amongst their many guests. Those whom the Queen delighted to honour included members of Church and State, besides many distinguished visitors from overseas. ^{PRINCESS MARGIT} ~~Spoke with many of the visitors, and Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother used~~ ^{Airmen at Parasol in the hot sun}

South Korea: Refugees from the Communist regime in the North, two pilots flew this Russian-built Yak fighter to Seoul - in a dramatic escape to freedom.

In the South Korean capital - a heart-warming reception awaited the two flyers. And their happiness was complete when they were re-united with relatives who had made the long trek South, during the fighting on the Peninsula.

Tour de France

France: The heat is on - ~~from the beginning~~ ^{in more ways than one -} in the two thousand seven hundred mile "Tour de France" - as top European riders burn up the road in the toughest of all cycle marathons.

Already the grueling pace ~~is taking~~ ^{takes} its toll of the competitors - but here, an eager newcomer joins the chase.

Improvised shower-baths are taken en route - and refreshments, too, for those wheels must keep turning.

Coming into Metz now - and Willy Kemp of Luxembourg wins the fourth stage - and the rest of that cold shower.

Mt. Etna erupts

Sicily: After eight years of inactivity, Mount Etna (Europe's highest volcano) is in eruption....hurling molten lava and rocks over two thousand feet into the air.

Though approximately thirty-five explosions occur every minute, there is no immediate danger, as the deadly flow continues to fall back ~~inside~~ into the main crater - which is a mile wide...
