Texas Tornado in action

11th April 1957

America: A tornado has passed this way - leaving a fifteen mile trail of destruction through the City of Dallas, in Texas.

Striking the city with terrifying fury, the storm shattered homes, ~~and~~ business premises, everything in its path as it whirled on its way.

Once it had passed - the dazed population began the tragic search for treasured possessions - while the injured were rushed off to hospital.

Then came the grim reckoning: ten people killed, four hundred injured,
