It was a gala evening when eager feet took the floor in the opening heats of the East of Scotland Open amateur Ballroom Dancing Championships at the J.M. Ballroom, Dundee.

After the preliminary rounds, the ~~finalists~~ finalists gave a sparkling demonstration of the tango- ~~with its graceful~~ that first captured the popular imagination of dancers over 40 years ago.

The high standard of dancing gave <sup>Miss</sup> judge Ena Linton (the judge) a difficult task.

~~But it was the next item-~~ <sup>Then</sup> the quick-step with its infectious rhythm that really quickened the excitement. In graceful styles the couples matched their twinkling feet in strict tempo.

Top honours went to No 10 couple- Bill Murdoch and Marie Drummond, of Glasgow- leading lights in a glittering ~~dancing festival~~ <sup>contest</sup>

Finally, the presentation of the trophy by the Lady Provost to the new champions, who received ~~warm~~ congratulations from the runners-up at the end of ~~an star-studded~~ ~~and a~~ ~~delightful~~

Exciting evening for Dundee.
