THE HUNGRY OF HOLLAND

The starved rickets-ridden bodies of this Dutch family are witnesses to the treatment the Germans meted out to our friends in Holland.

Living testimony to the state of health of thousands of Dutch children. Now, under Allied supervision, Food Distribution Centres begin the difficult task of leading Holland's young generation back to health.

Sevys Inquart, Nazi Gauleiter, was largely responsible for conditions in Holland. He is now awaiting Allied justice as a War Criminal. As the children eat, they are already forgetting him and the system he represented. But we must not forget.

A prayer of thanks, and hope that they will never again feel the pangs of hunger.
