WINTER SPORTS

At Garmisch-Partenkirchen the German International winter sports are in full swing. This is the curling contest where they play with "steins" somewhat different to those used in Scotland, but the standard of play is up to championship form.

Now the downhill race is on. The idea is to get to the bottom as quickly as possible without knocking over the sticks. When you're expert you can try it in a nice thick forest.

Henri Oreilles is an Olympiad medal winner so he oughtn't to get his sigs and sags mixed. Nice work, Henri. Next to go is No. 31 --- Sorry, he changed his mind!

Here's Stig Sollander of Sweden.

And Stig Sollander is the winner!
