SPORTS NEWS:

Scunthorpe, a Third Division team, take the field at Highbury where 25,000 fans wait to see them tackle Portsmouth. Quickly on the attack, Scunthorpe slip and slide on a pitch that seems more suited to water polo. There won't be much fancy football in this match.

Jack Froggart, Portsmouth's star, who's on the transfer list, is soon well in his stride. But his centre is gathered by goalie Malan.

Henderson has it for Pompey. Cutting through Scunthorpe's defence, he centres and Froggart bangs it into the net. Portsmouth one up!

Still one-nil at half-time. Play resumes with Froggart bulldozing his way to the goal.

Froggart to Harris who neatly sidesteps the goalie and gently taps it into the net again.

Scunthorpe, playing like a First Division team, just can't get a goal, and its goals that matter when you're after the Cup. Portsmouth make the final score 4-nil and on they go to meet Bolton in round five.

Sammy McCarthy warms up in London, under trainer Snowy Buckingham's watchful eye. On February the sixteenth, promoter Jack Solomons is matching Sammy at Harringay with Belgium's Jean Sneyers. By special permission of Mr. Solomons, this headline fight will be shown exclusively by Pathe News. A hard and fast puncher, Sammy McCarthy certainly looks the right man for a crack at Sneyer's European Featherweight title.

Meanwhile, over in Belgium, Sneyers, too, is going through his paces with the aid of his small son. Sneyers, the baby-faced boxer, with fists like steam-hammers, has had three draws, five defeats and 49 wins in his career - and he's determined to keep that title.
