

BOY'S BOXING.

The London Federation of Boys' Clubs boxing championships at the Albert Hall - and in the over-17 class, Peter Benzworth (in the black-edged vest) is battling with Arthur Ranton. Peter's a sheet-metal worker from Battersea. Arthur's from Stepney.

There are three two-minute rounds in this class - but Peter doesn't see why it should last that long. He's all out for a quick finish - but Arthur weathers the storm and fights back.

Arthur Ranton tries a left - and they land in a clinch.

Arthur tries again - but Benzworth connects with a vicious right - and the stepney boy's down. As the ref starts to count, Ranton struggles up, but fails again.

Yes, Arthur Ranton has had it, and Peter Benzworth is the winner by a knock-out in the first round. This was bout No.13 on the programme - but someone had to be lucky!
