

MEET NEW ZOO BABY.

Toli is the mother of The Little Hairy One, first Orang-outang ever born in the London Zoo. Six weeks ago on Mothering Sunday, Baby Bulu came into the world. Now she was brought out to have her first pictures taken. Toli, Bulu's mother, seven-and-a-half years old, came from North Borneo. She didn't altogether like the attentions of the Pressmen and spectators.

The senior member of the clan, the giant orang-outang Jiggs, has been in the Zoo more than 12 years. After a little persuasion he drank the baby's health.

Problem for the Zoo - can they rear Bulu? No other Orang-outang born in Britain has survived. Here's luck to the mother and keepers.
