

Haw Haw (with severe cold) spurred to action by German Soldier. Salute as arranged. (Cut in C.U. Hitler Portrait)

Germany Calling! Germany calling! Here is Lord Humbug of Hambourg, giving you the news as never was.

The London correspondent of the Berlin Daily Liar reports that a wave of excessive politeness is sweeping over England. People have even been heard in the black out, begging the pardon of lamp posts.

You English think we are not prepared for war! This my dear deluded listeners is stupid. We may be short of our leather substitute, but there will soon be available (for those who can afford it) a substitute for the Substitute.

Field Marshal Goering has been accused by the great English Newspaper, the Wyre-Piddle Urban District Chronicle of hoarding jewels. On the authority of Frau Goering's maid, her mistress's jewel case contains nothing but four ounces of butter!

I see that British summer time is about starting. Although the British summer will not arrive for some time, you can trust Germany to make it hot for you.

Nearly three aggressions ago, (anyway last Wednesday) it was verboten to listen in to your broadcasts under penalty of "losing the head". One German had the temerity to say that he's already "lost his head" over the balderdash of our broadcasts.... He hadn't... but he did.

(SNEEZE)