WEIGHT AND SEA!

Now we know why the tide rises and falls. When these cuties hit the drink even in New York's swimming pool, it must affect the sea level for miles around.

The launching of the S.S. "FATSO". Her tonnage is a war-time secret of course. But she's so bueyant, she bounces right out again.

And this cruiser weight has a displacement that all but empties the bathing pool. So long Slim, we'll be seeing you (I hope).

Yes, the camera can do what a crane can't. One side please, here comes Blossom.

Here now is a triple threat. Three depth charges on a market submarine hunt. Look out below - Thar they blow.

Scream-lined bathing beauties that are super-buxom and bountiful.

They're a sensation; every time they bounce the place rocks.
