

NEWS IN BRIEF.

(1).

Picture:- If you could only see it, this would probably be a thrilling game. It's England playing--

--Australia. Sullivan tries to find the goal but--

--it's too dark. England dashes towards where the post should be, and scores.

Hi, where are you going? This is ruggar, not hide and seek.

(2).

Picture:- A few snapshots from the--

--Scott Trials over the Yorkshire--

--Moors. Nobody is compelled to do this. They--

--do it just because they like it, and if they are all wet, it's their business.

The result is said to show which--

--machines are the most reliable. Well, they all got through swimmingly, I think.

Picture:- It's marvellous the way Santa--

--Claus gets in all sorts of places at the same time. Here--

--he is being slung aboard the 'Empress of Britain' bound for--

--Canada. But don't get excited children. He will be right back--

--with his sack packed, or he will get back sacked. Fact!

Picture:- Paris has its dog-show, and that is its champion.

Loulou, champion pomeranian. What a lovely - - er - - dog!
What a life!

The Dutch Kekani! Does everything except pay the butcher for the stolen joint.

"Souky" of Alaska, where the gold-diggers come from.

A French bulldog, with French whiskers, named "Hello".
Well, "Hello", goodbye.'

Father and two sons. All Samoyeds. Good daddy!
