Picture:- Berlin freezes ! Lake Wanssee is frozen hard, and ice--

--yachts get their annual outing. This sport is-- --very popular in Germany. Drapers and linen shop goods-- --are still expensive, so women flock here to the-- --white 'sails'. Who threw that ice brick ? On the lake-sides--
--toboggans keep a lot of cheery people walking about, and-- --sitting around, and sliding along. Occasionally-- --somebody starts something to warm things up a bit.

This place is only a few miles-- --outside Berlin City, but somebody has forgotten the Swastikas, damen and herren.

Picture:- Vienna amuses itself this way during the-- --cold snap. Motor-cycle ski-jering. This is a race for the-- --Starhenberg prize. The speeds are not great, but the risk--

--is considerable. The ice track is very hard. Ask those fellows ! They will show you, if you want it proved !

This pair is doing well. They're the favourites of the race, and have almost completed the course. The prize is practically their's - - ah ! You blithering - - hard luck !
