SHROVE TUESDAY

CELEBRATIONS IN ALL PARTS.

Picture.:- This is after the pancake tossing in Westminster School. The annual sticky scramble is over, and the largest piece of pancake was grabbed by Student Worthington, who gets a guinea for his pains, and a pill for his further pains if he eats the pancake. Mr.

Worthington intends to give his guinea to charity. Now

.....

let's skip over to Scarborough for another Shrove Tuesday jollification.

Everybody in Scarborough skips on Pancake Day. As violent exercise on a full - - er - interior is bad for one, I suppose they eat their pancakes afterwards.

Nobody has a washing day on Shrove Tuesday, because all the clothes lines are in use as skipping ropes. The whole beach looks like a population afflicted with violent hiccoughs. Everybody's bobbing up and down.

This Scarborough custom must go back to the time before the earth's crust cooled and everybody hopped it.

It's Shrove Tuesday at Thorner, West Yorks, a day when the marble champs meet, a solemn affair, for some have lost mostly hair, in the struggle their rivals to beat. For nigh forty years some have played that there 'ere, and worn out the skin off their knuckles by trying to score and knock out Tom Shaw, what always gets all of the luck-els.
He's won - W. Feasby, and I can't rhyme that easy. Oh Shucks !
